THRONGS OF HOUSEWIVES ATTEND COOKING SCHOOL

to ask any questions they liked, and she was kept busy for a few minutes giving the information desired.

Will Cook Turkey Today.

This afternoon Mrs. Chase will demonstrate with meats and vegetables in many unique and economical styles.

Special attention will be given to complete demonstration. One of the features of the afternoon's meeting will be the cooking of a turkey, with all the requisite adjuncts, such as dressing, gravy, etc. Wednesday will be devoted to bread and rolls, etc.

Mrs. Chase is a woman of charming personality, a graduate of Chicago university, and her interesting and exceedingly bright manner of expressing things won her big audience and held their attention to the end. After the demonstration Mrs. Chase held an informal meeting around her platform, at which hundreds of women gathered to meet her personally, to ask a few questions pertaining to her recipes and to tell her how glad they were to be able to attend her school, promising to be present every afternoon.

The school will continue every afternoon this week except Saturday. Every woman in Atlanta who is interested in home economics, in the art of cooking and serving properly, is invited, and these more than demonstrated yesterday afternoon that she can make it worth while for Atlanta housewives to spend a couple of hours each afternoon with her.

Some Exhibitors.

Arranged around the hall in artistic manner are exhibits of many of the products which Mrs. Chase is using during her stay here. Some of the most attractive of these are the Atlanta Milling company, manufacturers of Miss Trade and Capitola flour; Atlanta Flouring and Manufacturing company, makers of Cotton Blends Shortening, Alaga syrup exhibit; Sauer's extract, Columbia Phonograph company, Victrola gramophone, which is served in connection with the school, and other lines of goods used in the school.

Vote to Continue Strike.

St. Louis, December 7.—Four of the organizations involved in the strike of shop men on the Harriman lines have voted to continue the strike, according to an announcement made today by C. W. Wilson, chairman of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor.

VETO OF WOODWARD TABLED BY COUNCIL

Mayor Had Mustered Sufficent Votes to Block Efforts to Override Him.

When it became apparent that Mayor Woodward had mustered enough members of the general council on his side to sustain his veto of the resolution approving the police board for electing two superintendents without the approval of the chief members of council who had planned to defeat the mayor's veto by their tactics, and caused the veto to be tabled indefinitely.

There was no discussion when the veto message had been read and placed before council. Alderman John S. Owens, author of the resolution, who involved the mayor in a bitter newspaper controversy, did not take the floor, as was expected.

Alderman Owens took a parting shot at the mayor by declaring that the resolution adopted by the police commission at its last meeting had been tampered with.

ADAIR OFFICE ROBBED IN MYSTERIOUS MANNER

The police are puzzled somewhat by the mysterious manner in which burglars entered the real estate office of Forrest & George Adair, in the Atlanta National bank building, Monday night, and stole several valuable articles.

The robbery was discovered Monday morning when the Adair office was opened up. Adair's desk had been pried open and a revolver stolen from his desk. A number of other desks had been broken into and articles taken from them.

The police believe that the thief entered the Adair office by making the cornice on the outside of the building to one of the Adair office windows, and entering in that manner. None of the doors to the office had been tampered with.

DIAMOND THIEF BUSY; ROBS HOME OF PAXON

A thief, who makes a specialty of diamonds and loose cash money, according to reports received at detective day morning, is again operating on the north side of the city.

The first victim of the thief was William H. Paxon, wife of the general freight agent of the Southern railway, 11 East North avenue, was ransacked Sunday night, and as a result of his visit Mrs. Paxon is short $100 worth of jewelry.

Mrs. and Mr. Paxon were away from their apartments during Saturday and Sunday and discovered the theft upon their return.

The diamond burglar carried away two handsome diamond rings, and a bracelet set with diamonds.

Her next friend who stated was Dr. H. Conner of New Philadelphia, Ohio, and the hospital authorities wired that address, but no answer was received. The body was removed to Greenberg & Bond's chapel.

PLAN FREE MOVEMENT

Arrangement With Great Britain and France to Minimize Delays to Shipments.

Washington, December 7.—As a result of conferences between the British ambassador and state department officials, Secretary Bryan announced today that an arrangement has been made to minimize delays incident to cotton shipments from American ports to European countries, including all belligerents. The British government already has become a party to this arrangement, and the French ambassador has given assurances that his government

The plan is to have the captain of a commercial vessel receive from the British consul at the port of departure a statement to be exhibited to the allies which might speak to him in such a way as to satisfy themselves as to the character of the vessel. It is understood they will be instructed to accept the assurance of reputable persons.

The state department is not to figure in the matter. The warship is made between American shippers as insured by American companies. Mr. Bryan said he was satisfied this would afford a means of moving the goods.

He explained that it already was being put into effect. The ship would be loaded with cotton at Charleston, and would sail for a continental European port with a cargo of cotton.

The voyage would be uninterrupted.

It was learned today the British government finally has obtained assurances from neutral European governments that copper shall not be permitted to pass across their borders into belligerent states. Negotiations still are in progress regarding raising of the embargo on rubber exports from Great Britain's colonies.
